In the suit of Wilson, receiver for Robertson county, against ex-Sheriff Linville and sureties, decided by Judge Arthur last November, declaring the Linville bond, taken by Judge Tilton, defective, thus relieving Linville, &c., from all responsibility, has been reversed by the Court of Appeals.

The event of last week was the Second Annual Reunion of the Philomathean Literary Society at the Mt. Olivet Hotel on Friday evening, the 3d inst. Fifty-four covers were spread and the occasion was indeed "a feast of reason and flow of soul." Dr. W. S. Chandler responded to the toast, "Absent Philomatheans." Robert Buckler welcomed "Our Guests." Judge N. A. Tilton, as one of the guests, answered Mr. Buckler in a neat and appropriate impromptu address that has received many compliments. Thomas Wood toasted "Young Men." J. H. Kautner, a visitor from Georgetown, regaled the assemblage with some practical remarks and anecdotes. Samuel Holmes's subject was "Self-reliance." Prof. W. R. Chandler recalled "Reminiscences," and J. J. Osborne spoke upon "America's Future." Samuel Throckmorton, A. S. Rice, Dick Wilson and others toasted "Woman, Lovely Woman." J. W. Morrison read the "Philomathean Annual." W. C. Deming was Toastmaster. Good music was discoursed throughout the evening. The menu was elaborate, the floral decorations extensive and the speeches were in nowise inferior.

The colored Methodists of we don't know where had a basket-meeting in Charleston Bottom last Sunday. They will try it again next Sunday, and expect to have a big day. The river towns will be represented as well as those back in the country.

Your correspondent is thankful to those who voted for him last Saturday for School Trustee, and more than thankful to those who did not. Leonard Burnett was elected. Our neighbors in the Bottom district had four candidates in the field, every one of them Democrats—Isaac Peggs, Charles Conlin, Weeden Foster and Charles Peers. They all came very near being elected. The two latter gentlemen got the plums.

Last Sunday morning Sam, the fifteen-year-old son of Kelly Buchanan, living in the bottom, concluded that he would dig into a sandbank after a king fisher's nest. When he had gotten several feet into the bank it gave way above and "birdnest" Samuel was four feet under ground looking for China. A younger brother notified the old gentleman. By this time Elasha Moran and W. C. Marsh were on hands and assisted in rescuing the boy. He was taken out more dead than alive, but finally came to himself, however, and will be a wiser and a better boy in the future.

Elder T. P. Degman preached here Sunday, and spent the day with the writer. Tom and I were raised boys together in the Cabin creek hills and went to school to several different teachers, but none that we feel more proud of than that tried and true man, "Squire" W. J. Tully of Springdale. In the fall of 1864 we concluded we wanted to see the "elephant," or at least what was left of him. Each of us being sixteen years old we went to Maysville and volunteered in Company H, Fifty-fourth Kentucky. We put on the blue for one year, but before the year was out Tom was promoted to Corporal and pronounced a couple of dorkies man and wife down in Southern Kentucky in a way that would throw "Squire" Beasley in the shade. But what a change in twenty-seven years! We, as well as many others, are wearing the gray for a short time only.

On and after July 1st, paid locals will be inserted in THE LEDGER at 25 cents per line for each insertion.
